About Us

Boerboel Wear is a proudly South African developed and manufactured brand. Our main objective is to develop a range of camo, outdoor and leisurewear that incorporates high-tech fabrics and patterns which blend seamlessly with South African and international hunting landscapes.

Inspired by characteristics of the Boerboel, a South African dog breed, our range is the perfect blend between reliability and intelligence.

Boerboel garments allow for the serious hunter to effectively merge with most natural surroundings, while also being perfectly fit for any informal occasion and other adventure sports.

Brand Ambassador: Adam Tas

Our Camo Patterns

We offer two unique 3D-designs developed with the assisted knowledge of professional hunters and adventurers:

SHELL TECH:

This pattern was inspired by the shapes and colours of the Tortoise shell. Shell Tech's unique blend of different shades of brown, green and khaki produces a distinctive 'golden' appearance - perfectly suited for sparsely vegetated regions, or highly over-grown areas.

BUSHVELD TECH PATTERN:

Inspired by the South African Bushveld. A natural blend of colour and imagery was sampled from various species of Acacia bark and foliage photographed in carefully controlled lighting conditions. Random crisp and blurred layers, with no horizontal or vertical orientations, ensure that the hunter becomes one with his surroundings when worn in the bush.

Our High-tech Fabrics

Today's high-tech sportswear Polyester fabrics are typically made from synthetic materials designed to keep the sportsman cool and comfortable during competition. Modern polyester materials have the comfort of cotton but offer the long term durability that only synthetic fabrics can offer.

If the professional sportsman of today prefers the high-tech qualities of Polyester, why shouldn't the hunter also not benefit from this amazing fabric's unique features?

The Benefits of Polyester

Easy Care

Polyester is generally more durable than cotton and less prone to fading and wrinkling. Polyester also retains its shape making it the perfect fabric for outdoor clothing and harsh climates. It is also easily washed, dried and resistant to harsh chemicals.

Lightweight with Moisture Wicking Technology

Our camo garments are mostly manufactured with lightweight, high performance moisture wicking fabric. Moisture wicking polyester fabrics insulates the hunter, allowing sweat and moisture to wick away from the skin for easy evaporation - an attribute that is extremely useful for cold weather activities like hunting. Our lightweight garments also take up much less space and weight when packing for hunting trips.

Colour Fastness

Our Boerboel range combines the high-tech aspects of Polyester with crisp, modern sublimation printing techniques to ensure that the colours of our unique patterns will look sharp and vibrant for a very long time - outperforming conventional cotton camo wear in the market.

Intelligently Tough

The abrasion resistant fabrics, used in the production of most of our outer layers, proved to be very resistant to tearing and hooking in the bush. Michael Frosh, a professional hunter and hunting outfitter, recently commented after testing our products in the bush, "The materials are pleasantly light and cool, as well as being strongly resistant to hooking and tearing!"

KALAHARI RANGE

Welcome to the new breed of everyday wear – The Kalahari Range. Proudly developed and manufactured in South African.

The Kalahari Range was envisioned after various demands for a range of everyday wear that is designed with the same 'intelligently tough' philosophy of our popular camo range.

Intelligently Tough

Inspired by characteristics of the Boerboel, a South African dog breed, The Kalahari Range offers the perfect blend between reliability and intelligence.

The Philosophy Behind The Kalahari Range

Most of the garments in this range feature generous cuts with design details like bronze studs, metal buttons and epaulettes which give the range its rugged look and feel. The seams are mostly finished with trendy topstitched detail to enhance the style and strength of the garments.

Our already popular Two-Tone shirts owes its unique edge to the subtle two-tone colour combinations. Not only are these the perfect working shirts, but also perfectly suitable for any informal occasion.

The Kalahari Range is not only the perfect work and everyday wear, but also suitable for hunting if you prefer a more 'toned down' look in the bush.

This range is mostly manufactured with durable Cotton fabrics, with Polycotton blends incorporated in some of the garments.
